Trip: MFA, Boston to see the exhibit: *French Pastels Treasures from the Vault

Bus departs at 10:00 am

Fee: $23.00 for admission

Pastels are only rarely exhibited due to the fragility of the powdery pigment and the light sensitivity of the paper on which it rests. During the late 19th century, avant-garde artists in France and beyond took up pastels to capture the here and now, fleeting facial expressions, passing effects of light or weather, delicate blossoms that might soon wither. Drawn primarily from the MFA's holdings, with select loans from a private collection, "French Pastels: Treasures from the Vault" provides an exceptional opportunity to see firsthand nearly 40 seldom-shown masterworks by artists including Mary Cassatt, Edgar Degas, Edouard Manet, Claude Monet, Camille Pissarro and Pierre-August Renoir.
